Voter Registrations Climb to Highest Figure Ever

by Elaine Skolnik

"An all time high" was how Supervisor of Elections Administrator Robert J. Antonetti, Sr. described the final tally of 304,564 registered voters in Prince Georges County. At least 65% of the current eligible population is now registered, according to the Election Board. Antonetti predicts a voter turnout of 80% on Election Day, Tuesday, November 6. In the 1980 Presidential election, 77% of the county's eligible voters cast ballots.

The last-minute surge in voter registration — about 9,500 — occurred between October 5 and October 8 when the books closed. "Phenomenal," exclaimed Election Board officials. Observers attribute the extraordinary interest to the recent presidential debate between President Ronald Reagan and former Vice-President Walter Mondale and the face-off between Vice-Presidential candidate Vice President George Bush and Congresswoman Geraldine Ferraro.

With the close of the books in the county, there were 210,703 Democrats, 62,934 Republicans, 30,868 Unaffiliated and 59 Libertarians.

A major contribution to the record-setting numbers of new registrants was the Election Board's aggressive voter-registration drive that earned Prince Georges County the title of "Number 1 County" in the State for new registrants and voter turnout in the May Primary. Determined to retain that title, the Election Board continued to conduct voter registration drives in supermarkets and shopping centers and worked closely with various individuals, groups and organizations to attract new voters. Five hundred volunteers were trained to assist in the effort. Voter registration applications were also made available to all public schools and libraries.

Antonetti credits the 24 hour hotline that permits residents to call for mail-in registration forms as the most effective method of registration. Between the time the books were open after the May primary and October 8, 25,364 new voters were registered through the hotline. Also the registration effort in 21 Giant Food locations netted 7,490 registrations in a five-day effort during that period.

Antonetti observed also that there was greater participation by the media, individual businesses and public officials. In Greenbelt, for example, state, local and county officials targeted certain areas of the city for door-to-door canvassing.

VOTER STATISTICS

What You Wanted to Know ... and a Good Deal More

by Eliane Skolnik

Traditionally, Democrats in Greenbelt have enjoyed a three to one majority over Republicans. However, since the 1980 Presidential Election there has been some erosion of the Democrats' lead. When the registration books closed on October 8, Democrats chalked up 61.5% of the city's 10,977 registered voters while Republicans collected 24% and the Unaffiliated 14.5% (see chart).

However, in the county Democrats held over a three to one edge, reaping 69% of the 304,564 eligible voters. The Republicans garnered 21% and the Unaffiliated, 10%. Fifty-nine persons registered as Libertarians, four of them Greenbelters. Fifth Congressional District statistics were almost identical to the county's, with Democrats holding 68% of the 167,534 registrants, Republicans, 21%, and Unaffiliated, 10%. Fifty-nine Libertarians are also on the rolls.

Although Democrats in the core of the city—Old Greenbelt—have a comfortable 64.5% majority, this is a 3.5% drop since 1980 (see chart). There was a 5% loss for Democrats in the Center School area, Precinct 3, and a 2% decrease in the St. Hugh's School area, Precinct 6. Benefiting by the loss were the Republicans, who picked up 4% in Precinct 3 and 1% in Precinct 6. The Unaffiliated increased by 1% in both precincts.

Greenbelt's political pundits speculate that younger voters accounted for the shift in affiliations, particularly in the Center area where young singles and young families are attracted to the University Square and other apartments, Charlestowne Village condominiums and Charlestowne Village North high-rise.

Similarly the younger voter appears to be a major factor diminishing the Democratic strength in the newer sections of Greenbelt — the Springhill Lake School area, Precinct 8, and Eleanor Roosevelt High School area, Precinct 13. The statistics in both precincts were identical 59% Democrats, 25% Republicans and 16% Unaffiliated.

In Precinct 8, where the Springhill Lake Apartments are located, the Democrats sustained a loss of 4% while the Republicans added 4% to their rolls. Republicans in Precinct 13 collected the 2% lost by Democrats. Voting in the Roosevelt High School area are Greenbelt residents from Greenbriar, Glen Oaks, Windsor Green and Glen Ora developments, as well as some residents living just outside the city's borders in the Goddard Space Village, Brae Brook Apartments and the Hunting Ridge and Chelsea See STATISTICS, page 4, col. 1

Krob Dismissal Is Reconfirmed

Former police lieutenant John C. Krob has been given a final dismissal notice from the Greenbelt Police Department almost two years after he pled guilty to a charge of misconduct in office and more than 18 months after a police review board ordered his dismissal. In a letter of October 3, Greenbelt Police Chief Frank Hutson gave Krob final notice that the original dismissal of March 29, 1983, was being reaffirmed. Hutson based the dismissal on a recommendation of the police review board which, pursuant to an order by the Circuit Court, was reconvened in September to reconsider the board's previous dismissal order.

In March 1983, the board found Krob guilty of 13 charges of violating Greenbelt city rules, regulations and policies. The board found that Krob brought the Greenbelt Police Department into disrepute when, on two occasions, he sold weapons which he had removed from the department and represented as his own. He was also found guilty of making untruthful statements, falsifying, removing and tampering with property and evidence and failing to observe the law.

Krob appealed the board's findings and in July the Prince Georges Circuit Court remanded the question of appropriate punishment to the review board for reconsideration. According to a letter from Hyattsville Police Chief Robert T. Perry, chairman of the police review board, this reconsideration resulted in a unanimous recommendation to Hutson that Krob be dismissed.

City Celebrates Halloween

Costumes ready? Now is the time! Whether a witch, ghost, clown, princess, pumpkin or whatever, come on down to the Greenbelt Youth Center this Tuesday, October 30. The costume parade and party will be held from 3:30-5:30 p.m. Prizes will be awarded for the best costumes in various age groups and categories. Treats will be in store for everyone.

"Trick or Treat Night" is Wednesday, October 31, from 6-8 p.m. Residents wishing to participate should turn on their porch lights, or for apartment dwellers, tie a piece of white cloth on the door knob.

Parents are urged to accompany young children and inspect all treats. Unwrapped candy should be avoided. Warn children not to eat any treats until they get home. Examine all treats. All costume materials should be flame retardant and short enough to prevent tripping. Use light colors or reflective tape for visibility. Carry a flashlight if available.

Have a safe and happy halloween!

Woody Allen Play Continues Run

In its 25th year as a community theatre group, The Adelphians present the last weekend performances of Woody Allen's "Don't Drink the Water" at the Utopia Theater.

The comedy plays Friday and Saturday nights at 8:15. Produced by Beth Snider, the play is directed by Stefanie Boss, a veteran of 25 productions, including Mary, Mary, which she recently directed here.

Others among the 15-member cast have a long association with this theatre group but boast extensive experience in a wide range of local theatre productions, dinner theatre, television, civic opera and dance programs.

The Adelphians appear at the Prince Georges Public Playhouse and the Utopia Theater, among other sites. Begun in Adelphi, they still practice at the Buck Lodge Middle School, but the cast of this play reflects the group's drawing of acting talent from parts of the Washington metropolitan area.

Greenbelters Participate In Japanese Dance-Drama

A traditional Japanese comedy skit and a special number featuring a group of University of Maryland student dance performers will be highlights of the fall program being offered this October 27 and 28 by the Kotobuki Kai Japanese dance company, which has been appearing in this area for several years. In keeping with the season, many dances will be performed against a new fall scene backdrop.

The company, which is directed by Yoko Harada King, a former Greenbelt, has achieved a reputation in this area for its smooth stage productions and exquisite costumes—some created by King herself, others authentic antique garments from the traditional Japanese dance theater. Jerry King, her husband, is producer.

Other Greenbelters are actively involved with the company.

Jean Ornstein, a local resident, will continue in her regular role as narrator for the production, explaining each dance and its brief history before the curtain opens. Lee Chambers, who has been stage manager for the company for many years, will be in charge of back-stage effects and the rapid scene changes for which the company is noted. Also assisting as stage hand and artist is Ron Brooks. Yoshiko Waeldner helps with costumes.

Scheduled in the Hallam Theatre on the campus, performances will be given at 8 p.m. on Saturday and at 3 p.m. on Sunday.

A 1 1/4 mile or one loop of the lake run will start at 10:30. The race was previously scheduled in Greenbelt Natoinal Park, but a scheduling conflict made this change necessary.

All Greenbelt residents will receive a special award for participating, so even beginning runners will receive an award from the Greenbelt Running Club. Other runners will receive both powdered donuts and a chance at random prizes. Runners should sign up half an hour before their race and pay a small entry fee. New GHI Budget Set at $4,905,455

by Mavis Fletcher

The Board of Directors of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. met on Oct. 11 in a session devoted largely to presentation of the 1985 GHI budget by General Manager Ron Colton and Comptroller Don McGinn. The Proposed 1985 budget totals $4,905,455, projecting an overall increase in operating charges of only 1.82%; Colton pointed out, however, that individual member charges will vary significantly depending on the type of unit and the amount of rehabilitation work completed.

The budget is designed to span one year with no mid-year change. McGinn anticipates issuing rehab charges beginning Dec. 3, which will reflect recent masonry work, the topographic survey and stock reduction from the National Consumer Cooperative Bank.

In the budget, staff anticipates using about $125,000 of the recently received 1983 NCCB patronage dividend to hold down charges to members. The rest of the 1983 dividend and any 1984 dividend will be retained in the stabilization fund for the anticipated change in the interest rate in 1986.

Colton listed several planned new programs: computerization of GHI records, creation of a nursery and home garden center and the recording of drawing specifications and plans on microfiche. New undertakings by the Contract Processing/Technical Services department would include loan processing for the Share Loan Service Corporation and other lenders, the five-year swale drainage program coordination and a long-range preventive maintenance program designed to preserve the gains made under rehab. The Fiscal Services Department would begin development of a multi-year replacement for capital equipment other than motor vehicles. New programs proposed for the Maintenance Department include tree and shrub replacement, provision of vapor barrier paint on request, the first year's work of the 5-year swale and drainage program, a limited program of asbestos removal in occupied areas and downspout repair and replacement on shingle homes. Programs begun last year which will be continued include motor vehicle replacement, installation of court name and number signs, slate roof repair and rental garage roof replacement.

The budget calls for a sizable increase in the reserves of the larger townhouses. Colton estimated that charges to members in these units might have to increase by $55 per month to launch a pay-as-you-go program to correct problems. Director Janet Cantwell brought up the possibility that these members might prefer to launch a "mini-rehab" program. Members in the larger townhouse units will be invited to discuss these matters.

The budget will provide one additional maintenance laborer, resulting in a total staff size of 37. It also calls for a 5% across-the-board salary increase for all staff, which Colton called "consistent with the cost of living index" and a recognition of the productivity gains made in the past year.

Anticipating that some of GHI's interest income will have to go for federal income tax, a new category has been created for income tax reserves.

McGinn emphasized that some of these items will not result in charges to members. The nursery and garden center, for example, would be self-supporting. In response to a question from Director Wayne Williams, McGinn affirmed that all costs related to SLSC loan processing are being recorded separately so that expenses and income can be compared.

After a members' meeting on the budget on Oct. 23, the second presentation to the board will be made on Oct. 25. Adoption of the final budget is expected in early November.

Other Business

Other business which came before the board included the drafts of three parts of the Rules and Regulations dealing with Member Complaints Procedure, Occupancy Criteria and Provision of Information to Members. These will be dealt with on a future agenda.

The board authorized an expenditure of up to $760 to replace dead crabapple trees with dogwood trees on Hamilton Place and in the 36 Court of Ridge Rd. The dogwoods will be obtained from the State. President Margaret Hogensen exhibited the Urban Forester of the Year plaque recently awarded to GHI by Prince Georges County. Maintenance Superintendent Joe Whelan, who had accepted the award for GHI, reported that a large dogwood tree from the county, to be planted near the GHI Administration Building, was also part of that award.

General Manager Colton reported on progress in planning for the GHI rehab close-out party scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 27. The event, which also celebrates National Co-op Month is being jointly sponsored by GHI, Greenbelt Cooperative, Inc., and the Maryland Cooperative Law Coalition. The board passed a motion authorizing an expenditure of up to $1000 for this event. Sponsoring organizations will share the costs equally. The rehab close-out party is by invitation only.

The board decided to shift its last regular meeting in November to Tuesday, Nov. 20 because of the Thanksgiving holiday.

CONSIDERING A CHANGE IN RESIDENCE?

Here are three key elements to consider:

- Your needs: things you positively have to have.
- Your wants: things you'd like to have, but don't necessarily need.
- Your qualifications:
 - Your initial investment (cash to move in)
 - Your total income (gross yearly income)
 - Your debt service (total indebtedness)

I would like the opportunity to discuss with you how we can combine these three factors to assist you and your family in achieving your housing goals both within Greenbelt and the metropolitan area - of course with no obligation.

Woods condominium developments.

The speculation that the new young voter is turning to the Republican Party and to the Unaffiliated appears to be reflected in the registration statistics in Greenbelt between the primary in May and the present.

In addition to the presidential sweepstakes, other contests on November 7 are: (1) The Congressional race in the Fifth District between the incumbent Democrat Steny Hoyer and John E. Ritchie, the Republican challenger, and (2) the selection of two Judges for the 7th Judicial Circuit Court. Running are sitting judges Arthur M. Monty Ahalt, Jr. and G. R. Hovey Johnson and States Attorney Arthur A. Marshall. Voters will also vote on a state constitutional amendment and two amendments to the Charter for Prince Georges County. Amendment A involves changes to TRIM and Amendment B provides for the filling of a vacancy in the Office of the County Executive. There are also four bond enabling act referenda dealing with county buildings and facilities, fire and rescue facilities, Hyattsville parking facility bonds and roads and bridge bonds.

Crime Prevention Month

Greenbelt is celebrating the success of Crime Prevention Programs throughout the month of October. The City Council urges all citizens to get involved with a neighborhood crime prevention activity. The Greenbelt Police Department and Greenbelt Crime Prevention Committee will assist in organizing a group of neighbors for a Crime Prevention Training Session or to start a Neighborhood Watch Program. These programs do work and do discourage crime from taking place in neighborhoods that have organized. Also getting involved provides residents with an opportunity to become better acquainted with their neighbors.

To start a program, contact the Greenbelt Police Department at 474-7200 and ask for the Crime Prevention Officer.

Join Neighborhood Watch today.

Replies to Suggestions

1. We will be carrying "Old Tyme" ginger beer within the next month
2. The costs of operating a bakery properly are greater than we can afford at this time, but it is a possibility we will explore at a later date.
3. Our grocery supplier does not carry Louis Sherry ice cream at this time, but we will be able to get it at a later date.
4. The store does very little business after 8 p.m., so later hours are not a viable possibility at this time.

If you would like to receive a personal reply to your suggestion, please PRINT your name and address, as some of the handwriting is illegible.
Thank you, patrons and members, for your suggestions and interest.
